

Anbareen Aber / Mapping

August 5 - September 30, 2016

Closing Reception September 22, 2016 6pm - 7pm

Arts Commons +15 Window

205 8 Avenue SE, Calgary Alberta

“My current artwork acts as both a means of self-representation and self-expression, allowing me to talk about the things that are most important without having to resort to words. The concept that I work with mostly revolves around the idea of time and journey, especially immigration and the feelings that are associated with it. It explores the ways in which immigrants locate or map themselves from one place to another, and the new adaptation they need to function within foreign societies. As an immigrant myself, I found it important to speak of the hardship that people face when moving to a new place. One may feel isolated and desolate in new surrounding. Overcoming cultural obstacles and language barriers is reflected in the kinetic movement and motion within my use of different mediums such as printmaking.”
